WHERE TO EAT

Long known as a melting pot of cultures, Sierra Vista is recognized for international flair when it comes to food. With a smattering of cuisine from across the globe, Sierra Vista's restaurant scene boasts nearly 25 international eateries that serve authentic cuisine, from sushi to schnitzel, and pizza to pho.

Many of Sierra Vista's restaurants are locally owned and serve meals prepared by chefs who emigrated from native lands, bringing traditional culinary methods with them. And Sierra Vista's deep military roots can partially credit its varied palate to the international experiences of U.S. Army soldiers who travel abroad then bring their craving for exotic cuisine to southeast Arizona. And if you're hankering for a traditional grilled steak dinner or your favorite chain restaurant, Sierra Vista has you covered.

WHERE TO STAY

Whether you choose one of our delightfully secluded B&Bs or opt for cozy overnight comfort in town, Sierra Vista is the best place to catch some shut-eye before heading out to explore. In addition to the 1,800 rooms available at hotels to fit all budgets, you'll also find space for RV parking and even campsites. Overnight fees and amenities vary.

Sierra Vista B&Bs are located near the city, but are rural enough to get an amazing view of the night skies. Before you tuck in for the night, look up and enjoy Mother Nature's best light show. You can make your star-gazing even better by stopping by the Sierra Vista Public Library (2600 E. Tacoma) and checking out the Telescope Pack, complete with a telescope, stand, and astronomy guide! Many B&Bs are near trailheads leading into the Huachuca Mountains, so if your day includes a hike, pick up trail information at the Visitor Center or online at VisitSierraVista.com.
